From the Principal

We've had a very busy start to the term, with reports going home in the first week, followed by Parent/Teacher night in week two. Various opportunities are provided this term alongside the teaching and learning program, and already Year 8s are participating in Figure 8 – a self-esteem program run by our School Chaplains over this term, Year 10s have been to Elizabeth College for Careers Expo, students participated in the Maths and English competitions, Year 10 School Leaders went to Parliament House for the Alliance of Girls Schools visit hosted by Elise Archer, and our Art students have had their work on show at the Young Archies Exhibition at the UTAS School of Art. Next week our combined band (with New Town High students) goes on tour to Victoria.

Last Friday, we had a visit from a delegation from the Fengxian District Education Bureau, Shanghai, China. Our visitors were: Mr Zhang Jie: Member of CPC Committee, Deputy Secretary, Ms Zhang Qing: Chief of Moral and Sports Education Section, Mr Yang Min: Deputy Principal, Shanghai Fengxian Shuguang High School, Ms Yu Xuemei: Principal, Shanghai Fengxian Huixian Junior High School, Ms Wu Xunlei: Principal, Shanghai Fengxian Yangguang Foreign Language School and Ms Chen Lin: Principal, Shanghai Fengxian Experimental Middle School, along with staff from Government Education and Training International, GETI.

The purpose of the visit was for Principals of the schools to find out about what we have on offer here at Ogilvie and to consider having students from their schools come to Tasmania to study. The visitors also went to New Town High School and Elizabeth College, and all three schools are working together to be a part of this initiative. The intention is for students who study at Ogilvie and New Town High Schools for Year 10 to go on to study at Elizabeth College for Years 11 and 12. This is just one way that our three schools are working together to deliver a high class education for all students. The group were very impressed with the presentation given about the wonderfully diverse programs we have on offer within our curriculum and those provided in extra-curricula activities such as Tournament of Minds, Debating, School sports teams and House competitions. The visitors enjoyed a tour of the School, accompanied by Prefects, Scarlett Marston, Bree MacDonald and Jenny Wang. They engaged in the learning program in English, History, Science, Drama, Foods, and Visual Art. They were impressed by our fantastic facilities and also with the enthusiastic way students were able to describe their learning.

This week staff and students visited our feeder primary schools as part of our transition and program. Our primary students are encouraged to participate in our writing competition to have their work published in Threads later in the year. I look forward to reading their work and to meeting our 2017 Year 7 students at our transition night on Tuesday 23 August.

Try-a-Skill Day

In the final week of Term 2, all Grade 9 attended Try-a Skill. This day, held at PWI on the wharf in Hobart, gave students the opportunity to have a taste of 3 different trades or vocations that they might be interested in. These included education, child care, Parks and Wild Life, bricklaying, motor mechanics, interior decorating, fashion design and hospitality just to name a few.

Ogilvie students really engaged in the process and took away a great deal from the experience. For some, it helped them to realise that what they had a go at was probably not for them, while for many others it gave them something to think about exploring further, later on, as a potential career. The feedback from one exhibitor was that Ogilvie students were well behaved, polite and really engaged in the process, having a taster of each of their chosen options. Well done to all girls who attended this year's Try-a-Skill day.

Eco Schools

Over the past few months the Eco Schools Team have supported the 5c campaign with collection boxes in many staffrooms and classrooms. The 5 cent campaign aims to collect 1 million individual 5 cent pieces with all money raised going to five causes here and abroad, including community programs in Australia, Ghana and Rwanda, and education projects in Bangladesh and Cambodia. With over $150 million dollars' worth of 5 cent coins in circulation, the aim is to harness the collective value of Australia's small change to make a big change globally.

OVERLOAD

The group art exhibition for awareness of our most common recessive gene disorder - hereditary haemochromatosis (iron overload or hh) is on at The Stable Gallery, Cooley's Hotel until 30 September. Artists, including five from Ogilvie, have created artworks to the theme of iron overload, and written about their work, in an effort to raise community awareness and their works are for sale, with a percentage going to Haemochromatosis Australia.

Early intervention is the key to management of this condition - for further information please see www.ha.org.au

World Challenge

After several successful expeditions in the past, Ogilvie High School are delighted to announce that we are launching another very exciting program which offers students the opportunity to plan, fund and ultimately lead their own 21-day long expedition to Cambodia in September 2017.

World Challenge is unique; students have a chance to CHALLENGE themselves and lead the expedition team to a developing world country. It's a unique opportunity for students to develop real life skills prized by universities and employers alike, whilst travelling through a developing world country. The students will partake in a challenging trek and immerse themselves within a local community where they will work alongside locals in sustainable and meaningful tasks and projects. Other leadership roles that the team will take on will include managing their own budget, organising some of the accommodation and transport and running group meetings with the guidance of teachers and their World Challenge Expedition Leader.

We understand that even though the school has done World Challenge expeditions before – you will have a lot of pertinent questions about the program particularly around the support we can give to the students and families to fundraise, so please come along and ask all those questions in person:

Date: Wednesday August 10th
Time: 7:30pm – 8pm (30 mins info session)
Venue: The Hall @ Ogilvie High School

Festival of Voices

Charlotte and Nikita McLean-Ford, Emily Quinn and Angela Carlisle were members of the Festival of Voices (FoV) Youth Choir that had special opportunities to work the acclaimed conductor and music educationalist Richard Gill AO. They performed at the 'Tasmania Sings' opening concert for FoV on Thursday 30 June at the Federation Concert Hall. During the first week of the July holidays the girls attended several rehearsals with Richard Gill in preparation for the wonderful performance of the 'St Matthew Passion' on Saturday evening 9 July. This concert enabled the girls to be part of a unique occasion to sing with the TSO choir and FoV adult choir, (over 200 voices in total) and be accompanied by the Tasmanian Symphony Orchestra. The next afternoon the Youth Choir gave a beautiful rendition of 'Shackleton' conducted by the composer Paul Jarman. The girls deserve congratulating for their commitment to these undertakings as they have already given of their weekends once a month this year to attend rehearsals preparing for these concerts.

On Wednesday 6 July, Ruby Bainbridge, Angelica Passarelli, Jessica Kruijver, Megan Kruijver and Emma Hughes attended Paul Jarman's 'Girls Sing Workshop'. These girls enjoyed the day participating in voice activities and singing a variety of songs including some very recent Paul Jarman songs.
